

WAR DECLARED ON AUTO BUS SPEEDERS

OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE SPEED
LAW VIOLATIONS WILL BE PROSECUTED; SAYS SCHEDULES
NECESSITATE LAW BREAKING.

Speeding stage drivers are going to have a bad time from now on in San Mateo county, according to an announcement made Wednesday by the State Motor Vehicle Department and District Attorney Franklin Swart of this county.

"It is only a question of time," declared Swart, "until an entire carload of passengers are tangled and killed because of speeding. It is high time that all speeders are required to observe the law."

The district attorney said he would use his full power to force observance of the law. All speeding in the county, he said, comes under control of the traffic officers.

Acting on orders from President Frank Devlin, the State Railroad Commission's traffic bureau is trying to find an answer to how stages can observe the law when company time schedules require 35 miles an hour.

From the office of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau in Sacramento came the announcement that every one of its employees would be held accountable for the stage company's observance of the law.

Reckless stage drivers have occasioned the bureau considerable trouble, it was announced.

A denial is made by the automobile companies that they violate the law. All drivers have been threatened with discharge if they violate the law, it was shown.

Several endeavors have been made by the Pacific Auto Stage Company, its officers announced, to meet the Peninsula Rapid Transit Company and devise means of assuring strict observance by employees of all regulations. The Peninsula company blocked every endeavor, it was announced.

John P. Duffy, vice-president and general manager of the Peninsula company, insisted that his company always observed the law. Between the San Mateo depot and San Francisco, he cited, drivers were allowed one hour and five minutes for the nineteen-mile trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Baglettani had as their guests recently Mr. and Mrs. G. Raugi and children from Moss Beach.

S. P. RAILROAD OPENS FIRST AID STATION

One of the best-equipped first aid stations conducted by the Southern Pacific Company has just been completed at the Bay Shore shops, near the San Mateo county line. The emergency hospital is the thirteenth to be established by the company. The new unit has an operating room, small ward, kitchen, waiting room, and doctor's office. It is finished in white tile throughout and is in charge of a trained nurse at all times.

TO WORK ON CITY HALL GROUNDS NEXT SUNDAY

Next Sunday has been chosen as the day for the volunteer work on the grounds around the city hall that many citizens have signed up for. All are expected to be on hand at 9 o'clock in the morning. Picks, shovels, hoes, wheelbarrows, etc., will be furnished for everybody, and before the day closes it is believed that the grounds will be leveled off and trees and grass planted. If you promised to give your labor in the good cause, be on hand without fail. If you did not promise, be there anyhow and help the good work along. The exercise will be good for you and you will be more than ever proud of your beautiful city hall afterward.

THREE STORES ROBBED IN SO. S. F. SATURDAY

Candy and Cigar Store, Poodle Dog Saloon, Majestic Cafe Broken Into; Over $100 Stolen.

Three more robberies were added Saturday night to the list that have taken place in this city recently. All were business houses, and the methods employed bear out the assumption that all were perpetrated by the same person or persons.

The places visited by the robbers were the Poodle Dog Saloon, belonging to A. Baradat; the Majestic Cafe, owned by Richard Setter, and the cigar stand and candy store of City Trustee H. Scampini.

At the Poodle Dog two punchboards were swept clean of many articles of jewelry of a value of perhaps $30 or $40 and about $25 in change was taken from a cash drawer. Entrance was gained through a small transom over a rear door. The transom is so small that only a very slender man or a boy could have possibly squeezed through it.

At the Majestic, $40.45 was secured. The thieves gained admittance here, apparently, with a passkey. All doors were locked next morning. The robbers broke open a cash drawer to secure their plunder. This was the first time, according to Mr. Setter, that money has been left in the place over night, and was left this time through Mr. Setter's oversight. The proprietor states that a suspicious-looking stranger was in the place the day before the robbery and seemed much interested in its appointments.

At the cigar stand and candy store, entrance was gained through the transom of the Linden avenue door. The transom here is also very small. In the two stores, which are connected, about $25 in cash was taken.

It was reported that at about midnight several shots were fired just outside the business district in the direction of the Ship Hotel, and that Night-watchman McGraw was investigating these shots when the robberies occurred, making it appear that the shots were fired as a ruse to draw the officer out of the business district.

PIONEER WOMAN OF COUNTY PASSES AWAY

Mother of Dr. McGovern, Mrs. Conrad, and Mrs. McGraw Dies, Aged 74.

After more than forty years spent in San Mateo county, Mrs. P. F. McGovern, wife of P. F. McGovern of Halfmoon Bay and mother of Dr. J. C. McGovern, Mrs. H. McGraw, and Mrs. C. C. Conrad of this city, died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McGovern was 74 years of age and had been in ill health for some time. The end came peacefully.

Mr. and Mrs. McGovern were among the oldest citizens of San Mateo county in point of length of residence here. They were well known throughout the county. A little over a year ago they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their Halfmoon Bay home.

Mrs. McGovern was a native of Ireland. She is survived by her husband and six children, three sons, Dr. J. C. McGovern of South San Francisco, Deputy Sheriff T. C. McGovern of Redwood City, and Frank McGovern of Halfmoon Bay; and three daughters, Mrs. C. C. Conrad and Mrs. Henry McGraw of this city and Mrs. Thomas F. Quinlan of Halfmoon Bay. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) morning at 9:30 from the Conrad residence on Grand avenue. A requiem high mass was celebrated at All Souls' Church, followed by interment at Holy Cross Cemetery.

WHAT SOUTH S. F. CITIZENS THINK ABOUT IT

Last week The Enterprise published an editorial on conditions in South San Francisco. This paper took occasion to say that with "blind pigs" running rampant in this city, bootlegging practiced almost openly and gambling constantly getting worse. Since last week The Enterprise has been deluged with letters from citizens of the town voicing approval of the stand this paper has taken. In addition, the editor has been stopped on the street many times and congratulated on the spirit of that editorial. In order that the city trustees themselves may realize the sentiments of the better element of this town's residents, a number of the letters received are published below. The originals of these letters are on file at The Enterprise office with the actual signature of the writers.

Editor of The Enterprise, South San Francisco—Sir: As a taxpayer in this city, I wish to ask the public why another night watchman is desired? We already have one who is very diligent in holding down a chair in a certain poolroom each evening till closing time. Why burden the taxpayers with another chair-warmer? If the poolrooms want protection, let them hire special policemen or whatever may be necessary.

In other cities policemen are required to look after the welfare of the community which employs them, so why not in South San Francisco?

Respectfully,
TAXPAYER.
March 27, 1921.

Editor Enterprise, South San Francisco—Dear Sir: I read your editorial in last week's paper with much interest. I have heard many comments about it, all favorable. One thing that struck me is that you did right by laying the blame on the city trustees for the poor police protection we are getting in this city. If our officers are not doing their duty it is up to the trustees, who use the people's money to pay their salaries, to see that they do their work. If they (the officers) do not do their work, then why not get officers who will?

I do not believe we should spend the taxpayers' money to hire another night watchman. Other towns larger than South San Francisco get along with one night officer and get reasonably good protection, but they have a man who is on the job. The Enterprise has taken a good and fearless stand and ought to have the support of every decent citizen in the town.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.
March 28, 1921.

Editor The Enterprise, South San Francisco, Calif.—Dear Sir: I have just finished reading your editorial, "Gentlemen, Conditions in South San Francisco Are Rotten," and, as it seems a pity to wait until a man is dead to praise him, I am writing this letter to tell you that your fearlessness in pointing out evil conditions existing in this city is appreciated here by persons really competent. By having the "courage of your convictions" you honor the profession to

AND STILL THE MERRY WORK GOES ON

In another column of today's Enterprise is the account of three robberies that took place in this city Saturday night. Since that account was written and set in type for the paper another sensational burglary has taken place. This time the Union Oil Company is the victim, the service station on Linden avenue just south of the Royal Theater being broken into Wednesday night.

The amount of loot secured at the oil station far exceeds that of all Saturday night's robberies put together. Seventeen tires, a number of them large cord casings, were taken, together with $8 in cash and several cans of lubricating oil. The entire amount of booty will exceed $700. Again, as in Saturday night's outrage,

VIRIDEN TRUCK DAMAGED BY FIRE TUESDAY MORNING

A truck belonging to the Viriden Packing Company was considerably damaged by fire Tuesday morning as it was loading up with gasoline at the South City Garage. The gasoline tank ran over and the gasoline ignited on the hot engine. The fire truck responded to the alarm and the blaze was put out with chemical. As the blazing truck stood over the underground tank of the garage, there was a prospect for a short time that a spectacular and disastrous fire might result.

which you devote yourself and even more the city which has the good fortune to possess you.

The Enterprise, with its ramifications far and wide, is an admirable vehicle for good from which may emanate reforms of lasting value, and such an editorial, by helping the community to realize the desirability of having law-abiding citizens, is, from a purely economic view, a source of wealth to the city, if the majority of the people will have "eyes to see" and ears to hear."

Please turn on more light when it is needed.

Sincerely yours,
AGNES C. IRVINE.
March 29, 1921.

Editor Enterprise: I read with much interest and satisfaction your editorial in the last issue of The Enterprise in regard to the laxness of our city officials in enforcing the laws regarding gambling and bootlegging in this city. That such a condition exists is to be greatly lamented, and while I feel with you that the members of the board of trustees are honest and conscientious men individually, yet feel that they as a board should see that their officers do their duty, and if they do not, replace them with men that will.

Something surely must be done, or the class of people we desire to see come to this city will pass us by. Something must be done to above all make this a clean, decent place for the youths of this community.

From its external appearance South San Francisco is a place to be proud of—let us make it so morally.

Our streets are the best paved of any city of its size in the state, our schools, churches and public buildings are second to none—but any one knowing the conditions of the town is ashamed of the open way in which gambling and bootlegging is carried on. Every effort should be made by the decent citizens of this community to assist in ridding this city of these dens of iniquity. And I say, all honor to you, Mr. Editor, in so fearlessly denouncing the situation, and may you continue to denounce these conditions until something is accomplished toward making this a better and safer place in which to live.

DEDICATION ATTRACTS MANY TO HOLY CROSS

Beautiful Mausoleum Is Officially Opened by Archbishop Hanna and Church Officials.

A large gathering of residents of San Francisco and San Mateo county assembled at Holy Cross Cemetery Monday to witness the formal dedication of the beautiful new mausoleum.

Archbishop E. J. Hanna officiated at the ceremony. He was assisted by Monseigneur M. D. Connolly, Monseigneur James Cantwell, Rev. Timothy Shanahan, Rev. James P. Moran, Rev. James McDonald, chaplain of Holy Cross Cemetery, and Rev. Thomas Heverin. The ceremony was performed in the chapel, which occupies the rotunda of the structure. In preparation for the service the cold austerity of the Brocadillo marble interior had been broken by masses of potted plants, which lined the walls and banked the chapel altar.

The vespers were chanted by a vested children's choir from St. Patrick's Seminary at Menlo Park, under the direction of Father Benjamin Marceteanu. Father Ouard was the soloist.

The mausoleum, which has been compared by artists with the world's most beautiful tombs, was eighteen months in completion. It was constructed upon the design submitted by John McQuarrie, and is said to have cost about $500,000.

The building has been impressively situated in the center of two acres of beautifully landscaped lawn, where it stands a temple to memories.

It is a structure of magnificent proportions, containing 1500 crypts, four private rooms, a chapel and eighteen private sections. The exterior is of steel construction, finished in cement, marble and bronze. It is 205 feet long, 90 feet wide, and 35 feet high. The central pylon of the facade reaches a height of 65 feet.

ALL NOW SHIPSHAPE WITH NEW FIRE ALARM

Fire Truck Now at Fire House With Man on Duty Night and Day.

The fire alarm system has at last been put into working order and alarms can now be rung in from any of the street boxes. This announcement was made Thursday by Fire Chief Truax, following final adjustment work done by the Gamewell fire alarm people which put the finishing touches on the local system.

Thomas Schmidt has been unofficially appointed to the position of driver of the fire truck. His appointment will be confirmed at the next meeting of the city trustees. Schmidt will be on duty during the day at the fire house, while J. D. Raudebaugh will be on duty at night.

It would be well for the residents of the town to jot down the telephone of the fire house. It is No. 2. If anybody seeing a fire can't get to an alarm box, call No. 2 on the telephone and explain the location of the fire.

ASSISTANT Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY TO LEAVE FOR OLD HOME

George E. McKeen, who since last October has acted as assistant secretary at the local Y. M. C. En route East Mr. McKeen will spend a few weeks visiting relatives at Riverbank, Stanislaus county, Calif.

During Mr. McKeen's stay in South San Francisco he has made many friends and has proven a genial and accommodating official at the "Y" rooms. He will be much missed here. As yet no successor has been appointed to the place he held.

STEEL CO. EMPLOYEES BANQUET JUDGE WILSON

About 400 employees of the Pacific Coast Steel Company attended the big banquet given Wednesday night at the Golden Eagle Hotel in honor of Judge E. M. Wilson, head of the company.

The affair, arranged by the company's employees, proved one that will be long remembered by all present. A spirit of comradeship and co-operation pervaded the entire evening's program. One feature of the festivity that made a hit was the arrival of the employees of the "scrap department," forty-five in number. They all came in uniform and marched in a body, led by Frank Weiss and Austin Owens.

Ben Tatum acted as chairman of the evening, with E. G. Bettis as toastmaster. Those who delivered addresses were J. F. Dooley, Dr. W. J. Crook and P. R. Thompson. Musical numbers were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Clausen on the violin and piano, while J. Williams and C. L. Stokes contributed vocal solos.

The big dining room of the hotel was gayly decorated, while a tiny

JUDGE H. M. OWENS DROPS DEAD IN SAN FRANCISCO

Judge Henry M. Owens of the superior court in San Francisco died suddenly of apoplexy in his chambers in the San Francisco city hall Tuesday. He had occupied his position less than three months, but had already made a record as a conscientious jurist.

Judge was a conspicuous figure in San Francisco for more than twenty-five years. Starting as a motorman in that city, he had raised himself by hard work to the high position he occupied at the time of his death. He had many friends throughout San Mateo county and the entire bay region.

EXCITING BOWLING MATCH PLAYED AT REDWOOD CITY

One of the most exciting bowling matches of the season was played at Redwood City last Friday night between teams of the Pacific Coast Steel Company of South San Francisco and the Redwood City fire department, both members of the San Mateo County Bowling League. There was a difference of only seven pins in the total scores for three games. The first game was a tie, then each team took a game and the fire fighters won the roll-off with a score of 45 to 38.

The scores made by the teams and by the individual players are as follows:

Frocks That Grace the Dance

WHAT seamstress does not enjoy making up the lovely dance and dinner frocks that give her imagination food for pleasant thought? Whether she is working for herself or some one else, and especially if her endeavor benefits a daughter, there is less care and more joy in the making of party frocks than in anything else. Younger women are rapturous over them, the young matrons know that they look their best in them and maturer ones travel on the road to yesterday when they wear them.

There is a wide choice of styles to suit various types, and plenty of room for individual taste in dance frocks. One may choose quaint and demure ideas or be a little daring, or steer a course between the two. When there is so much that is vivid and sparkling and daring, it is the simpler or quaint frocks that find themselves most charming. They do not belong to the jazz era, and are refreshing for that reason.

A lovely dance or dinner frock of taffeta, as pictured here, has a low bodice with narrow straps of the silk over the shoulders, and over this a pretty fichu of fine net to match, edged with shirred taffeta strips frayed along the edges. The girdle, which is pointed at the front, recalls the old-time pointed bodice that seems to belong to the full skirt. The fichu is knotted at the front and has short ends hanging below the waistline.

The skirt is widened at the hips with a wire, and there are three rows of the fringed strips set about it here to emphasize its fullness. Wide scallops at the bottom reveal a narrow petticoat underneath, that is finished with the fringed strips also, and this skirt, like many others, is noticeably longer than skirts have been for some time. There are several signs besides this one of a reaction from extremes in styles that may be looked for in the coming spring.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

SKIM MILK POSSESSES HIGH VALUE AS ECONOMICAL FOOD

Skim milk, though often wasted, is a very economical food material, in the opinion of specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture, and could be more generally used, in cookery, as human food.

Whole milk, as every one knows, is an indispensable food for the young, and even in the diet of the adult it is desirable. For cooking purposes skim milk is very satisfactory, although it lacks the valuable food constituent, butter fat. There is left, however, in the skim milk, not only all of the sugar, which amounts to about 4½ parts in every 100, and most of the mineral substances, but also most of the proteins. The last-named class of substances are important, because besides supplying muscle and tissue-building material, they also serve as fuel for the body, as fats, sugars, and starches do.

Rich in Protein

Since the nutritive part of skim milk consists very largely of protein, it is to be classed with such food materials as eggs, meat, fish, poultry, and cheese (though it is more delicate than those foods), rather than with such substances as sugar, which serve only as fuel. Two and a half quarts of skim milk contain almost as much protein and yield about the same amount of energy as a pound of round of beef.

Whole, unskimmed milk has, of course, a more pleasing taste to many people, and those who do not need to consider the additional cost will no doubt always prefer it. Children should always be given whole milk.

When used for cooking, however, the difference in taste between skimmed and unskimmed milk is not so perceptible, and there are many uses to which skim milk can be put in the preparation of foods. In the making of cereal mushes, for instance, the use of skim milk in place of water adds greatly to the nutritive value, particularly by raising the amount of tissue-forming materials. In making milk soups, chowders, custards, and cakes also, it can be profitably used.

Corn Chowder

1 can of corn, or one pint of fresh corn grated.
4 cups of potatoes, cut into small pieces.
2 ounces salt pork.
1 small onion, chopped.
4 cups of skim milk.
1 teaspoon salt.
4 ounces crackers.

Cut the pork into small pieces and fry it with the onion until both are a delicate brown. Add the potatoes and corn; cover with water, and cook until the vegetables are soft. Add the milk and salt and reheat. It is well to allow the crackers to soak in the milk while the potatoes and corn are being cooked. Some people cook the cobs from which the corn has been removed in water, and later use this water for cooking the potatoes and corn.

Curd Cup Cakes

1 cup dry curd.
4 eggs.
¾ cup sugar.
½ teaspoon salt.

Beat the yolks of the eggs thoroughly; add the sugar and the curd (which must be very dry), and beat until the mixture is smooth. Combine this mixture by cutting and folding with the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake for twenty minutes in a moderate oven, in which the heat is greater at the bottom. Use unbuttered gem tins. This amount should make about thirty cakes.

In order to prepare the curd, take two and a half or three quarts of sour skim milk; heat to the boiling point and strain; when no more liquid runs off, press the curd between cloths or dry it in a warming oven. If the curd from the quantity of milk given amounts to more than a cupful, it is too wet.

If a very sweet cake is liked, as is the case in parts of South America, where these cheese cakes are well known, two cups of sugar may be used with two cups of the cottage cheese and four eggs.

It should be remembered that skim milk does not contain so much nutrient as whole milk. Its greatest function is to give added food value at low cost when used in cookery to replace water, and is a means of utilizing the skim milk which contains much good food.

WHEN IS A POLICEMAN?

Business men as a rule when they hire an employee insist upon that employee earning his wages. He must go to work at a certain hour, work while he is on duty and cease his labors only when his working hours are over. If that employee insists on loafing at his work, or continually fails to do the duties assigned to him, he is discharged and a competent and willing worker employed in his place.

In what way is a policeman different from any other employee? Chiefly inasmuch as he is employed by a municipality instead of an individual. If he shirks his duty, openly and flagrantly "soldiers" on his job, he should no more be allowed to retain that position and draw his salary than any other employee of a firm or city.

Friday night of last week the editor of The Enterprise attended the motion picture show at the Royal Theater. The program had little more than started when this city's night watchman came in and sat down in a seat close by. For an hour while the editor remained in the theater the policeman, who was supposed to be patrolling the streets, was also there, and when the newspaperman left the playhouse the policeman was still in his seat, watching the handsome hero rescue the blue-eyed belle on the screen.

A little inquiry among people of the town who attend the movies more regularly than the writer does has brought out the interesting information that this going to the show in the evening is a regular habit of the night-watchman. One of the city trustees told the writer that he saw the red signal on the corner, which is intended to notify the night police that somebody is trying to reach him by telephone, burning for a long time one night recently while the officer sought relaxation and repose in the show.

Now the editor has no objection to the policeman in question attending the movies. Doubtless the severe mental and physical strain of his calling render a little relaxation necessary now and then. But why seek it during the hours he is supposed to be on duty? The theater is open every Saturday afternoon while his time is his own and not the property of the city that pays his salary.

IF YOU BREAK QUARANTINE

Did you ever stop to think that when you break quarantine you become a menace to society, and the enemy of your neighbor? This was brought to the attention of The Enterprise by one who is interested in the welfare of this city and its inhabitants. Said he, "There is considerable scarlet fever and other contagious diseases prevalent just now and people should be warned to observe quarantine regulations rigidly. Too often they are lax on this score and subject their neighbors and their neighbors' families to disease and death through their own selfish disinclination to be inconvenienced."

This statement is quite true, unfortunately. And such a spirit is a manifestation of the most cruel and blameworthy selfishness imaginable. If the same persons who snap their fingers at quarantine saw a neighbor's child in danger of being struck down by an automobile they would doubtless do all in their power to rescue that child. Yet by breaking quarantine they are subjecting scores, perhaps hundreds, of children to dangers only one of which and perhaps not the worst is death.

Taking scarlet fever as an example. Blindness, deafness, loss of other faculties may follow as a result of the disease. That person who is instrumental in spreading such a malady through disregarding quarantine is no less criminal than the drunken automobile driver who kills or cripples his fellows.

A duty directly connected with any contagious disease also devolves upon every citizen of this or any other city in the way of reporting to the health officer any person he observes breaking quarantine. It is as much his duty to report such a person as to report a fire, a burglary he sees taking place, or report a man whom he sees take a gun and start out on murder bent.

The health officer will do his duty in placing quarantine upon the premises where a contagious disease has fastened itself. But he cannot be everywhere and so cannot know whether all persons placed upon quarantine are observing its restrictions. He should have the assistance of every fair-minded person in town; first, in observing quarantine rules when placed upon his home; second, in promptly reporting everybody whom he sees breaking quarantine.

It is quite true that work never kills some people. They never give it a chance.

Our principal notion of a good thing is to find a way to annex it.

The Parent-Teacher Association will present "The Deestrick Schule," brimming full of fun and laughter. It will be a joy to see our staid and dignified fellow townsmen and women turn back the years and be kids again. Besides the play there will be choral singing. Under the leadership of Joseph Schuster, choir leader of Ross parish, a fine chorus has been developed. Other literary features will add further charm to the program. Following the entertainment a social dance will be held in the upper hall.

THREE PARTIES HELD TOGETHER SUNDAY EVENING

Last Sunday evening California Hall was the scene of three very interesting parties, all in one. The first party was given in honor of Rev. A. E. Limper, former pastor of the German Lutheran church here. Rev. Mr. Limper will leave in a few days for the East, and his many friends were present to say farewell and wish him bon voyage.

The second event was the celebration of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. Schmidt. Many of their friends were present and congratulated them and wished them marital happiness for years to come. Every one had a portion of the immense wedding cake made by the skillful hands of Mrs. F. Wedell.

The third event was in honor of Mrs. Chris Schmidt's birthday. Many were the congratulations received. Children and grown ups indulged in games, after which all partook of the bountiful supper. Every one went home satisfied that the evening was a most enjoyable one.

ASKS INDEPENDENCE FOR PHILIPPINES

Discussing Philippine independence, the governor general said: "I can see in the future a very beautiful vision. When the flag of the Philippine republic shall be hoisted, when the Stars and Stripes will come floating down to the strains of 'The Star Spangled Banner'—that flag, Old Glory, so rich in happy and honorable achievements, will be made doubly dear because it will mean that the United States will have kept its word to the people of the Philippine Islands."

ASKS INDEPENDENCE WITH OR WITHOUT PROTECTION

Manila, P. I. — The people of the Philippines want independence in whatever form they can get it. Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, declared in an address before that body.

"Let the Americans in the Philippines and those in the United States know that the people of the Philippines covet their freedom, liberty and political emancipation so much that they will not hesitate to receive from the Congress of the United States complete and absolute independence without protection," Quezon said.

"If the United States, dictated by its own interests, decides to extend protection to the Philippines, well and good. We would accept that as a solution of our problems. If not, let us have absolute independence in whatever form we can get it."

President Quezon declared that if the question were put before the Filipinos for a vote, 98 per cent would favor absolute independence.

UNITED RAILROADS BRING SEVEN MILLION AT SALE

The United Railroads was sold on foreclosure Monday for $7,000,000 to a reorganizing committee composed of F. B. Anderson, chairman; Herbert Fleishacker, J. D. McKee, E. F. Heller and William H. Crocker, representing the bondholders of the company. Sale was made by Court Commissioner James S. Mulvey and F. D. Madiso, as attorney for the reorganizers, bid in the property, which includes all of the company's land, buildings, franchises, equipment and rolling stock, both in San Francisco and San Mateo counties, as advertised in the big advertisement that has been appearing in The Enterprise the last four weeks.

Reorganization plans will be announced in a few days, Attorney Madison has stated.

The foreclosure proceedings were brought by the Union Trust Company, which obtained a decree in the superior court about five weeks ago.

A PRINT-SHOP TRAGEDY.

By Earl H. Emmons.

The office cat sat with his tail in his paws,

While he registered pain and distress,

For his caudal appendage got caught in the jaws

Of a rapidly galloping press.

And he felt of the stub, which was tender and sore,

And he coughed up a couple of spits,

For that terrible tail would swell up nevermore

To frighten his foes into fits.

And a sob choked his voice and the tears dimmed his eye,

As he wept in abandoned profusion; "Billy Shakespeare was right," he remarked with a sigh:

"Oh, lame and impotent conclusion!"

It would seem that Colombia is becoming the gym of the ocean.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Its One Drawback.

A Scotsman came south to have a look at London. He spent a few days in London and sped back to Scotland again.

On the first night of his return to his little village up in the wilds all his friends gathered around him to hear his opinion of the town whose streets were "paved with gold."

He told the tale as only a Scot can—short and candid, without too much padding; then a friend interrupted him.

"Hoo long wur ye in Lunnon a' the gither, Jock?"

"About a week," replied the traveled man.

"What did ye think o' the town?"

"Hoots, mon, it wur aul richt in its way! Lunnon's a fine wee town itself, but it is sich a long wa' fra anywhere!"—London Answers.

"Lungs inactive, heart insipid, brain torpid," reported Dr. Philetus Derringer, and he tapped his patient, Thomas Maltby, three times and made a mental note of a $50 bill for his advice.

"Humph!" observed the wealthy old bachelor—"generally lazy, eh?"

"Worse than laziness, my friend," responded the notable physician gravely. "Your late suppers, lack of exercise and indolent ways generally have stored your system with poisons."

"Then get rid of them," suggested Thomas.

"Nothing but exercise will do that," was the serious response.

"You speak of exercise, doctor," said Thomas. "What do you mean—golf, walking, baths, dieting?"

"They all help, but you need additionally a spur, changed conditions. Get your mind clear as well as your body. See here, did you ever hear of Prof. Septimus Gregg and his great 'youthful reorganization' system?"

"I never did," confessed Thomas.

"You will come back with your youth renewed. Then if you take my advice, get married, and home life will do the rest."

Thus it was that two mornings later Thomas Maltby was introduced to Prof. Septimus Gregg at the doctor's office. He found the latter to be a great, fierce, bearish old fellow.

"Tommy Maltby, eh?" he spoke. "Well, Tommy, if you're ready, toddle along with me. I've a few purchases to make and you can carry the bundles."

Thomas stared as the professor entered a department store and purchased: (1) half a dozen shoofly kites; (2) as many humming tops; (3) a dozen bags of marbles; (4) a box of bubble pipes.

"You must have a lot of children to provide for, professor?" ventured Thomas.

"H'm! you'll soon find out," was the gruff rejoinder.

When they reached a walled-in country place at noon that day, Thomas Maltby wondered if he had entered an asylum. A dozen men as old or older than himself greeted their arrival boisterously. Some of them were barefooted. All of them wore knickerbockers. They capered around like boys on a vacation. Eagerly they scrambled for the doctor's purchases. Then they hooted and frisked about like mere kids. They played marbles, blew bubbles, spun tops, flew kites.

"Now, then, make believe you're a boy again. Forget everything for one month but just that," said the professor, and Thomas was escorted to a room with a trundle bed and emerged from it wearing a juvenile costume like the others.

Thomas grinned and then laughed outright as he got onto the scheme. He was to play boy for a month. He was hailed as "Tom" on the playground.

Inside of a week Thomas Maltby had forgotten the club, late dinners and his automobile. The "boys" went fishing, swimming. They played one old cat, mumbly-peg, hi-spy. They got up big appetites.

On one side of the resort was a high brick wall. Strolling near it one day, Thomas caught a tennis ball that came over its top. There were feminine cries of distress. Then a ladder top appeared. Peering over it was a fair, mischievous face, half hidden in a quaint childish sunbonnet.

"Do you see the ball, Mattie?" asked a voice below.

"Here, you, boy," called out the roguish Mattie to the astonished Thomas—"toss that lost ball over here, will you?"

Then Thomas found out that the brick wall inclosed the domain of Mrs. Prof. Gregg, who superintended the "girls' department" of the juvenile rejuvenating system. He got to thinking constantly of Mattie.

"They have a regular party here once a month," a "boy" friend told Thomas next day. "There is music, dancing, and a supper."

"Ladies, too?" inquired Thomas, hopefully.

"Yes, Mrs. Prof. Gregg and her flock. The old life togs for tonight, you know. Very formal and dignified."

Thomas never enjoyed himself as he did at the function announced. There were friendly introductions and a pleasant time all around.

When Thomas returned to the city he sought Mattie out. He called on her twice, but only had her to tell her his love to win her complete acceptance of his suit.

Returning from a year's tour of Europe one day Dr. Philetus Derringer chanced to meet Thomas. The latter, smiling, brisk and happy, hailed him with a healthy handshake that made the physician wince.

"It is plain to see that you took the juvenile cure," said the doctor.

"Yes, and won a splendid wife and a comfortable home through it all," declared Thomas. "We live next door to a glorious family with 11 children, and we're all just like kids. Going home now to fly kites for them."

TRE NEGOZI DI SOUTH S. F.
DERUBATI SABATO NOTTE

Tre negozi di South San Francisco furono derubati durante la notte di

Sabato scorso. Questi furono la dolceria e tabaccheria di Enrico Scampini, il Majestic Cafe appartenente a Richard Setter ed il Poodle Dog Saloon di A. Baradat.

Tanto al Poodle Dog come a Scampini i ladri guadagnarono l'entrata per mezzo di un finestrino sopra la porta. Nel primo luogo asportarono la somma di $25 in contanti ed il contenuto di due tavolette lotteria. A Scampini pure circa $25 ed al Majestic Cafe il valore di circa $40.45. In questo luogo una chiave di passo si crede fosse stata usata essendo la porta ermeticamente chiusa la mattina seguente.

Nessuna traccia dei ladri e' stata finora potuta trovare.

VECCHIA RESIDENTE DI QUESTA
CONTEA CHE PASSA A MIGLIOR
VITA IN QUESTA CITTA'.

La Signora P. F. McGovern, consorte di P. F. McGovern di Halfmoon Bay, una primaria residente di questa contea, mori' Martedì mattina nella casa della sua figlia Signora C. C. Conrad di South San Francisco.

La Signora McGovern era pure la madre del Dottore J. C. McGovern, della Signora Henry McGraw di questa citta', del Deputy Sheriff T. C. McGovern di Redwood City, di Frank McGovern di Halfmoon Bay, e della Signora Thomas Quinlan del medesimo luogo.

Il funerale ebbe luogo Giovedì mattina dalla casa del Signor Conrad in Grand avenue. Dopo una massa cantata di requiem alla chiesa di tutte le anime l'interramento ebbe luogo al Cimitero di Holy Cross.
